

RECOMMENDATION

To Whom It May Concern,

It is a privilege to write a letter recommendation on behalf of Mr. Ben King. I have had the pleasure of working closely with Mr. King for the past year at Generations Christian Church. During this time, Ben served as our Director of Communications and was charged with creating structure and strategy in all of our communications. Throughout our work together, I continued to be impressed with Ben's level of demonstrated leadership, initiative, knowledge and abilities to finish projects. After working with Mr. King, I have full confidence that he has the skills, knowledge and experience to serve as a leader that can shape and transform your organization.

Mr. King also proved to be a team player. During our time working closely together, Ben always maintained the ability to look at situations from the perspective of the betterment of the organization rather than personal agenda. His willingness to serve the church and its constituents led to positive feelings and a sense of partnership with our teams.

Each of the aforementioned qualities are worthy of note, but the skill that separates Mr. King is his ability to pursue excellence in all areas of his duties. I consistently witnessed Ben pursue distinction and excellence in all areas of his responsibilities. Additionally, his ability to share vision allowed us to expand our strategy and mission "to connect people to Jesus".

I fully believe that Mr. King would make a valuable contribution to your organization and recommend him to you without reservation. If I may be of further assistance, please feel free to contact me.

RECOMMENDATION

To whom it may concern,

My name is Jason Raitz and I am the Executive Pastor of Ministry at Generations Christian Church. I have had the privilege of working and serving with Ben King the past six months. I have worked closely with Ben as his direct supervisor.

It did not take me long to figure out that Ben has an incredible work ethic and a strong desire to complete projects with excellence. What I love about Ben is that he does not jump hastily into working on his projects or leading his teams. He is thoughtful, insightful and attacks each project with a great amount of care and insight. You will not get a completed project from Ben that is sloppy or not well thought out. He will look at the solutions from every angle and present a multitude of ideas. This is where his work ethic shines through. He will do what needs to be done to get the project just right.

What I also love about Ben is his honesty. Ben does not have the ability to bend the truth or tell you what you just want to hear. He is incredibly honest and will say the hard truth. I admire this about Ben. He will truly cut through what you just want to hear and he will share what he truly thinks about a situation. It's an amazing quality to have in a team member.

He also has a wealth of experience and knowledge. Ben is well versed in all things Communications. He is not only a student of communication, but of leadership as well. He listens and learns from podcasts, videos and articles. He also relies on his years of experience of serving and working with great organizations.

Ben is also creative. Very creative. He does not like to just copy other ideas. He will take an existing idea and he will make it better. It's incredible how he takes just a tiny idea and turns it into something special.

Lastly, Ben King is a phenomenal Husband and Father. He loves his wife and he is a terrific provider. They are truly partners and tackle life together. Ben and his wife have five children and the way that he pours into them and how they raise their children is truly special.

It was an honor leading Ben and I highly recommend him for your team.
